

HOT SPRINGS

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

Hot Springs, Va., September 28.—The social event of the week at Hot Springs was the marriage of Miss Abbie Ingalls Barnard, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melville E. Ingalls, of Washington and Cincinnati, to Russell Ellis Sard, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Sard, of Albany. The ceremony was performed in St. Luke's Episcopal Church by Rev. William G. Thayer, of Southboro, Mass., assisted by Rev. Hunter Davidson, of New York. Philadelphia, Washington and Cincinnati, were present.

The three days preceding the wedding were gay with a round of entertainments. The members of the Ingalls and Sard families gathered here for that time, while the twelve ushers who were Mr. Sard's classmates at Harvard, occupied the small cottage belonging to Mr. and Mrs. E. Ingalls, known as the White Cottage, and seven girl friends of the bride were at Ingalls. These were the Misses Mary and Olga Wiborg, of New York; Mildred Eddy, of Morristown; Louise Withersbee, of Port Henry; Ruth Wales and Frances Lippert, of Washington; and Helen Green, of Cincinnati. The ushers were Messrs. E. S. Bowditch, of Albany; William H. Sard and Mr. and Mrs. George Ingalls, of Chicago; Mrs. B. S. Prentice, of New York; E. Ingalls, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Fay Ingalls, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. Weber R. Bishop and Mr. and Mrs. George Clark, of Mt. Kisco; Mr. William H. Elkins, of Philadelphia; Miss Katherine Fay, of Wellfleet, Mass.; and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ingalls, of Cleveland.

Miss Gladys Ingalls gave a luncheon to the bride party the day of the wedding in the Japanese room of the Homestead. The first annual race meet of the Fassefern Hunt Club was held a few days ago at Fassefern Farm, and called out an attendance of several hundred visitors at the Homestead, many of whom made it an excuse for luncheon and talk to parties. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Waller, who went on a brake took with them Mrs. Archibald McCrae, Mrs. R. N. Hinkley and Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Ryan, of New York; Mrs. Louis L. Heller, of Binghamton, N. Y.; Judge A. C. Cordill, the Misses Eleanor Bright and Katherine Ingalls, and E. A. Perry, Jr., of New York; George Eustace, of New York; and Mr. and Mrs. George Ingalls, of Albany. Mr. and Mrs. Tyler Fields, and Mr. and Mrs. Fay Ingalls, Benjamin Thaw, of Pittsburgh, was among a party of men who went over on a coach, and Harry S. Black, of New York, gave a picnic for Mr. and Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish, Mrs. Frederick Bull, Theodore F. Shontz and J. A. Harriman.

The chief event was a point to point race of two miles, with a river ford of 50 yards, in which the horses swam in water above their saddle girths. The purse of $100 was won by Tate B. Sterritt, of the University of Virginia, riding Tate Sterritt's Whirlwind; J. M. Pettit, of New York, riding Star; and J. E. Harriman, of New York, riding Tate Sterritt's Cyclone, took second and third prizes.

The ladies' saddle horse class, Miss Gladys Ingalls won the Tiffany silver cup, riding J. W. Hamilton's Kaywood. Second and third prizes were won by Miss Sallie Dunlop, riding J. W. Hamilton's Button, and Miss Helen Buchanan, of Washington, riding J. W. Hamilton's King.

Two hounds from the Oak Ridge kennels of Thomas F. Ryan won the purse of $45 for the best pair of foxhounds.

David Dunlop's Takahira and Billy Hibbs won the $100 purse in the two half-mile running races.

The judges were George Cole Scott, of Richmond, and Thomas Hogshead, and John F. Taylor, of Staunton. Horses were entered by Thornton Lewis, of Cincinnati, and White Sulphur Springs; Glendinning J. Ryan, Hunter Breckenridge, of Virginia, and others.

Harry S. Black, of New York, early in the week took a party of friends to White Sulphur Springs for a day's pleasure jaunt in his private car. They included Mr. and Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish, Mrs. Frederick Bull, Theodore F. Shontz and J. A. Harriman.

Mr. and Mrs. George C. Palmer and Miss Lillian Palmer, of New York, and Mr. and Mrs. Julius Walsh, Jr., of St. Louis, drove to the Oaks for luncheon several days ago.

Edward C. Wallace, of New York, gave a dinner the middle of the week at the Daniel Boone Lodge. There was music by Shepherd's orchestra, and dancing in the open-air dancing pavilion which has been erected there.

Mrs. Carl von Mayhoff gave a tea in the Japanese room several days ago in honor of Mrs. Spaulding, of Washington. Among those present were Miss Flora Wilson, daughter of the Secretary of Agriculture; Mrs. W. L. James and Mrs. C. W. Worthington, of Baltimore, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Parrish.

Mrs. Worthington gave a bridge and tea at the clubhouse, inviting Mrs. George Gaston, Baroness Rosenkrantz, Mrs. James, Mrs. Bryan and Mrs. Cochran.
